1. ABOUT THE COLLEGE

St. John's College was built up by the Church Missionary Society in Palayamkottai in 1844. It was started as a little and unassuming Anglo-vernacular school which later developed as a college. The college offers both UG, PG courses. Many departments has received research status. The college also provides unaided courses and the timing is from 1.15m to 6.15 pm. The college is raised to this status because of the hard work laid by the administration. Co-education framework was presented for all classes from the scholarly year 2005-2006. The shift system was introduced from the scholarly year 2007-2008. The college is striving for the welfare of the students. For centuries the college stands as a symbol of hope and guiding light for the people who are in need and keeps alive its motto "From darkness, lead us unto light".

The need of the hour for educational institutions across the country is to bring back the concepts of original thinking and moral vision which are basic to education. The introduction of a compulsory paper on Social Awareness by the universities can be the first step to check the apathy of the present day students. The missionaries, to toiled day and night to establish institution of learning, did not envisage the mass production of money-making machines. It is not just enough to bring forth simply good students as, according to one advertisement, 'Good is a bad word as it is the enemy of the word 'great'. So let all of us – the parents, teachers, administrators and the government – join hands to mould great students, on whose hands the future of India would rest securely. The gender audit shows that today's young people have different understandings of gender than previous generations. The gender audit is a tool to access and check the institutionalization of gender equality.

2. GENDER AUDIT PROCESS

The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) of St. John's College, Palayamkottai has been conducting the Gender audit in perspective of identifying the gender discrimination and biases (if any) on the college campus.

The Management of St. John's College is committed to design the gender policy of the college to ensure the campus free and protective to all genders. The applications which emphasize gender equality are to be followed deliberately and efforts are to be made to understand the gaps between the gender equality and the reality in the college campus. Gender sensitive approach is a systematic inclusion of women's and men's concerns, experiences, and needs.

It is a process of assimilating gender sensitiveness in all the avenues of administration and academic activities such as governance, decision-making and operating procedures, planning, budgeting, implementing, monitoring and evaluation in the campus to create it a gender equitable one.

The gender audit is based on an assessment of the policies, manuals, and standards that govern the gender sustainability and freedom. The methodology used in the audit includes physical inspection of the campus, review of the relevant documentation.

3. OBJECTIVES OF GENDER AUDIT

The Gender Audit has the following objectives:

- To find out the gender ratio existence in different areas and factors behind the gender balance.
- To imply various measures for bridging the gender gap.
- To scrutinize the policies, and actions of the college towards male-female equality.
- To identify measures for reducing the gender gap.
- To widen the gender equality in all aspects.
- To show the measures for prevention and prohibition of sexual harassment at work place

6.PROMINENT FINDINGS

- Students strength particularly girls strength is increasing continuously in UG programmes
- There is a growth in girls strength in PG programmes
- The participation of girls in NCC is comparatively less when compared to boys
- In sports the participation of boys dominates
- In NSS the ratio of both boys and girls is equal
- The women's role in non-teaching staff category is comparatively less
- In YRC girls students participation is less than boys

7. SUGGESTIONS

- Create an atmosphere to girls to actively participate in sports
- Motivation will be given to girls to join NCC
- To explore more avenues on gender research.

8. CONCLUSION

In the light of the strength of women in the campus, it has been found that they range less than the men in the campus. However, if one were to consider the performance rating in the campus they excel. Also, they have been found feeling quite accommodative alongside men in institution. For instance the facility accorded to them is more than satisfactory. As part of the mission and the vision, the Principal, along with the suggestions given by the various official bodies represented by woman, has plans to increase the strength of women in the campus. At the same time, he considers accommodation facilities as crucial and hence more buildings which cater to needs of the women.
